

Job opening: Applications are being accepted for the Consignment Shop manager position until Tuesday. This is a part-time position, working 16 to 20 hours a week. Apply at the Consignment Shop Tuesday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. For information, call 963-3294.

Study skills seminar: Nov. 29 and 30, from 8 a.m. to noon at the Community Education Center. For information or to reserve your place in the seminar, call 963-4575.

Recognition ceremony: The Outstanding Air Force Personnel and Education/Training Manager of the Year ceremony will be Dec. 1, 2 p.m. in the Charleston Club Ballroom. This is a great opportunity to support your commander support staff personnel and education/training managers. For information, call Chief Master Sgt. Johnny Cunningham at 963-4548.

Minimum manning: The 437th Military Personnel Flight will be at minimum manning Dec. 1 from 2-4:30 p.m. for the Outstanding USAF Personnel & Education/Training Manager of the Year ceremony. For information, call Chief Master Sgt. Johnny Cunningham at 963-4548.

Chili cook off: The 437th Supply Squadron chili cook-off is Dec. 2. Judging begins at 10:30 a.m. and $25 will be awarded for first place. Chili will be sold for $1 after the contest. All proceeds from the event will go toward the squadron Christmas party. The entry deadline is Dec. 1 and the event is open to everyone.

For more information or entry into the cookoff, call Tech. Sgt. Sheila Stephens at 963-4823 or Staff Sgt. Reginald Powell at 963-4825.

Town Hall meeting: The 437th Support Group will host a Town Hall meeting Dec. 3 at 7 p.m. at the Charleston Club. The meeting is open to base residents and/or employees and will cover a variety of base-wide issues, including Y2K preparations.

Instructors needed: C-17 field training detachment instructors are needed at McChord AFB, Wash. Eligible volunteers can contact the 373rd Training Squadron, Det. 5 at 963-2948 to request an interview or call DSN 982-3904 or 982-3855.

Duffel bags needed: The 437th Supply Squadron is collecting clean used luggage, duffel bags and sports bags to help out needy children in the community. According to Rebecca Dewitt of Charleston's Department of Social Services-Managed Treatment Services for Children, many local foster children carry their belongings in plastic trash bags.

Imagine having to move from one foster home to another with all your possessions in a trash bag, only to see it tear and everything you own spread on the ground? Stop that from happening—give us your clean duffel and sport bags or luggage.

For information or to donate, call Capt. Douglas Smith at 963-4815 or Staff Sgt.

Gregory Hackworth at 963-4840.

Officer Call: The commander's Officer Call is Monday at 3:30 p.m. at the Charleston Club, not Nov. 15 as mistakenly printed in the Nov. 12 issue of the Airlift Dispatch. All officers are encouraged to attend.

Speakers Bureau: Active duty, Reservists and civilian members of Charleston AFB are encouraged to take time out of their busy schedules to speak in the local community. Local schools and civic/professional associations are good areas to spread the Air Force message.

Members planning to speak in the local community or anyone else interested in setting up a speaking engagement, should call Community Relations at 963-5657.

Correction: Darlene Powell was misidentified as Bonnie Powell on page 8 of the Nov. 12 issue of the Airlift Dispatch.
